OIOLI

Est. 1960

The story of OIOLI Rubinetterie was born on the enchanting shores of Lake Orta, in a land where artisanal tradition meets aesthetic research and industrial know-how.

Here, more than sixty years ago, Eusebio Oioli founded a company dedicated to the production of high-quality faucets, blending essential design, attention to detail, and excellent craftsmanship.

Today, now in its third generation, OIOLI Rubinetterie continues to embody the excellence of Made in Italy, offering over 40 collections that merge innovation and tradition.

Each product is the result of a fully handcrafted production process, carried out by highly skilled artisans without the use of automated machinery. This approach ensures premium finishes, achieved through treatments inspired by high jewellery, such as chroming, bronzing and gilding, giving each piece a timeless elegance.

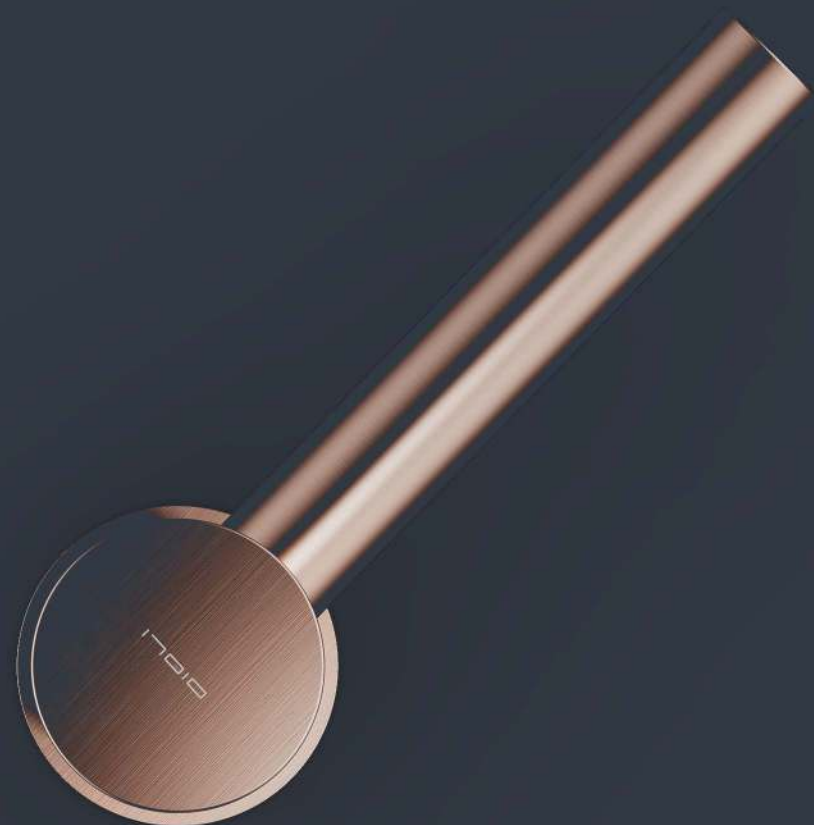

Attention to detail and aesthetic uniqueness are at the heart of OIOLI's philosophy. Design is the driving force behind each collection, as demonstrated by the Zen and Glam collections awarded the European Product Design Award (EPDA) for their perfect combination of essentiality, elegance, and functionality.

Collections like Elite, Navona, and Pura reinterpret faucetry with a sophisticated and distinctive style, suitable for both classic and contemporary interiors, and the successful collection 5th Avenue, renowned for its ability to blend tradition with modern minimalism.

Choosing OIOLI Rubinetterie means relying on an excellence that enhances every space with exclusive details, premium materials, and timeless aesthetics.

Every space deserves a touch of uniqueness.
